We signed up with CarbonTek in mid-2020. CarbonTek is a homerun! When I was first introduced to the product, I was very skeptical. There are so many products that make big claims about what they can do to increase power, fuel economy, or prevent costly repairs. With most of these there is no tangible proof, so you must accept it on faith.

What truly sold me on CarbonTek is the testimonial of my own technicians. It is hard to convince a technician that a service like this truly has any value. Yet when they performed the service on their own vehicles, they all reported that they could actually notice the difference!

It is not very often you run into a product that is a win in all categories. Compared to other products the profit margin is larger. The service is very quick and easy to perform and the customers actually notice the difference.

The advisors love it because they know they can promise a quick turn around and their customers will be happy with the results. I would recommend CarbonTek to any fleet company or any service department.
